Suzanne Schier-Happell is working on a research project about the relevance of Holy Mother Sarada Devi's life and teachings in the 21st century, focusing specifically on those in North America, especially women. She is doing the project on behalf of Hindu University of America and I am one of her advisors.

The importance of this project is immense, as we don't have yet substantial studies in academia on Holy Mother and Suzanne's project will be a pioneering work.

I shall be happy and grateful if you consider helping Suzanne in whatever way possible in her research. Thank you for your consideration.
